Pollution Control Profit?

Everybody is against pollution these days—even polluters. (Ask the smoker next to you who is pouring his cloud in your face.) And nearly everybody wants to do something about pollution.

We are trying to curb industrial emissions into the air. We are trying to do what is needed to make our streams pure. We are seeking to control automobile exhausts. But a big problem will remain in the garbage we throw away, the containers that are myriad, the products used today and discarded tomorrow. The only way that seems sure to solve that problem is to find ways to make garbage provide a profit.

Recycling seems to be the answer. If we can devise and construct plants that can recycle what we throw away and sell it at a profit for re-use, we will have that kind of pollution problem licked. That's the quickest, most economical way. Let's get busier with recycling development. — Chattanooga (Tenn.) News-Free Press

Back To White

It had to happen. After several seasons of going from bold stripes to even bolder stripes, from solid colors to even more vivid solid colors, the men's shirt business has nowhere else to go but - you guessed it - back to the traditional white shirt.

"We've got them all wearing colors," one manufacturer is quoted by the Wall Street Journal. "Now we'd like to get them all wearing whites . . . again." His company anticipates that 10 to 15 per cent of its production for next fall will be in white.

But if one thinks he is going to outsmart fashion arbiters by reaching into the back of the drawer and retrieving those white button-downs stashed away in anticipation of just such an eventuality, he's got another think coming.

The new whites will be "fashion" shirts, with longer collars, fancy cuffs, textured fabrics, white-on-white satin stripes - everything colored shirts have except color. Thus it's crack open the piggy bank for another wardrobe turnover. Either that or get some very strong bleach. — Bristol (Va.) Herald Courier and Virginia-Tennessean

Some Chance of Rain for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The chance of precipitation has crept back into the Arkansas weather picture.

Showers and thundershowers are expected to move into the state from the west by Thursday. The shower activity precedes a cold front which should be moving into the state before noon Thursday. Showers will be ending Friday.

Temperatures may drop into the 60s in the northwest portion of the state Thursday, but readings in other sections are expected to continue in the 70s and low 80s.

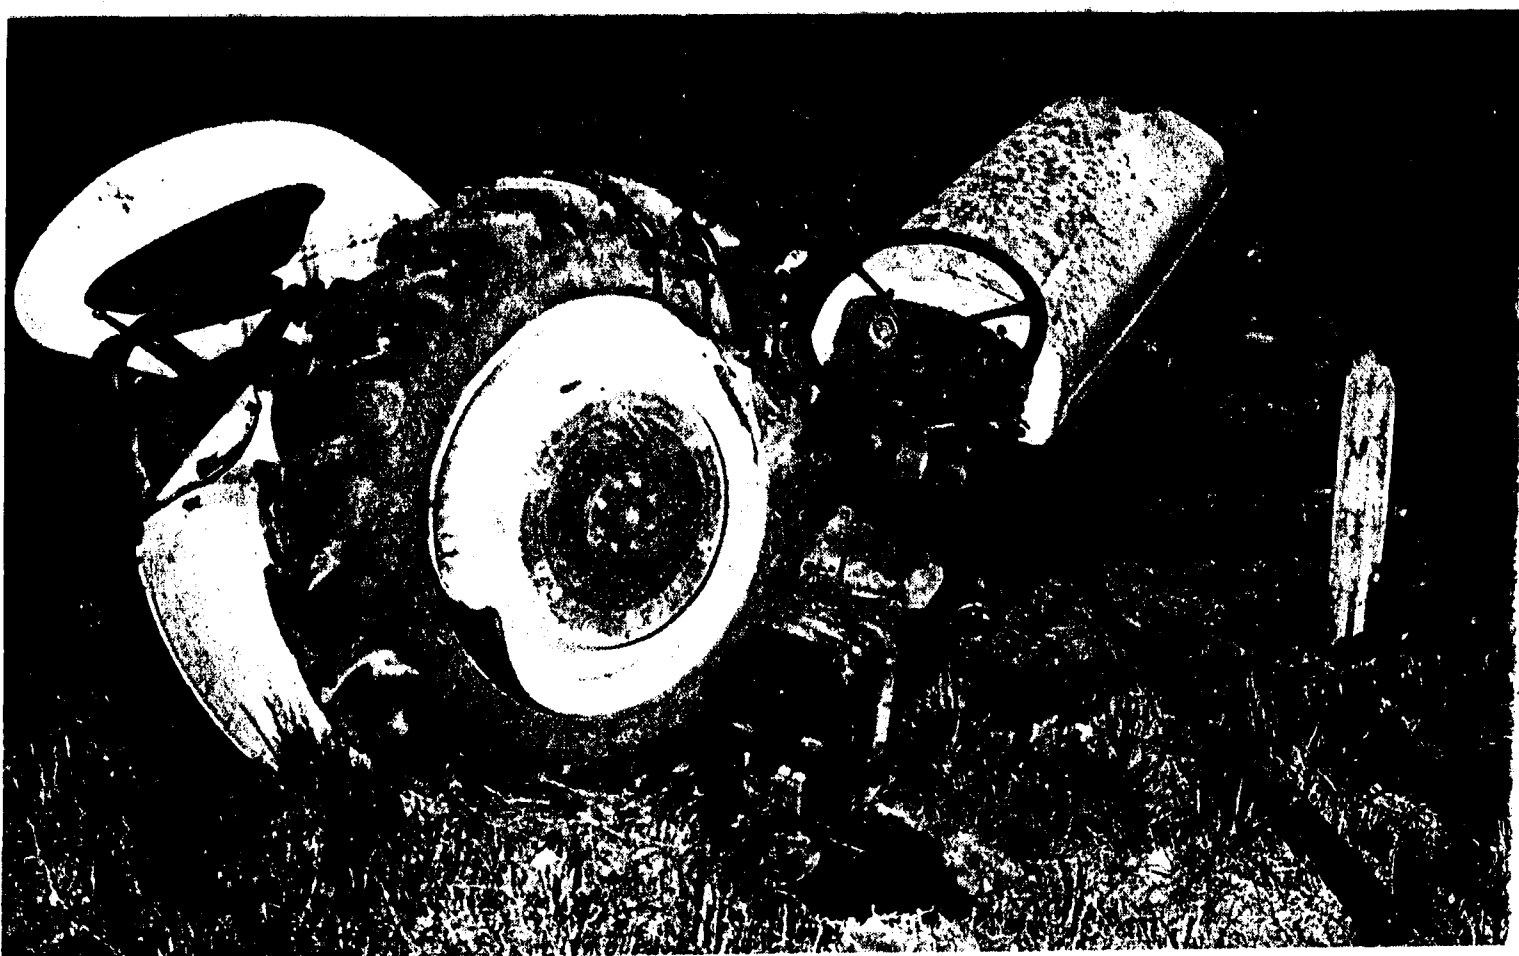

Highs Tuesday ranged from 64 at Memphis to 75 at Texarkana and Fort Smith. Highs today were forecast in the upper 70s to mid 80s. Lows tonight should be in the upper 50s to low 60s. Winds in the 15 to 35 mile an hour range were forecast for the state today.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 53, Harrison 55, Jonesboro 42, Pine Bluff 47, Texarkana 48, El Dorado 39, Memphis 45, Little Rock 46 and Fort Smith 40.

Stripped of Honor, Calley Tells Jurors

Thinks Middle Age Is Honorable Estate That Is Not Honored Enough

Middle age, like marriage, is

Toxic Metals in Arkansas Water Sources

WASHINGTON (AP) — State health departments are being alerted to an Interior Department report showing unacceptable levels of poisonous metals

in more than 50 public water sources.

Interior released Tuesday results of a nationwide spot check showing dangerously high levels of arsenic or cadmium in 12

waterways used to supply public water systems. These substances are not removed by orinary water treatment.

The department's Geological Survey, which performed the water sampling last fall, reported undesirable arsenic concentrations in more than 40 other public water sources.

Equally high levels of these and other toxic metals—lead, mercury and zinc—were found in more than a hundred water samples taken downstream from municipal-industrial complexes, and even in a few samples from areas remote from human activity.

The survey said high levels of these metals were not widespread although the data "indicate potential problems in a few areas."

Public water sources were reported to contain unsafe levels of arsenic or cadmium at 12 locations in North Carolina, Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Louisiana, Missouri and Pennsylvania.

And more than 40 public water sources were at or above

PHS-recommended limits for arsenic in 19 states.

Geological Survey's study was prompted by last year's discovery that poisonous mercury was finding its way into man's food supply through the waterways.

Construction Union to Fight Wage Order

By BILL NEIKRKE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction union leaders vow a legal fight against President Nixon's new wage stabilization order, but add they will "comply with the law of the land."
The labor officials were vague about how they will attack Nixon's executive order in court, but C.J. Haggerty, president of the Building and Construction Trades Department of the AFL-CIO said, "with all the legal power at our command we intend to fight this plan for more equity."
Haggerty also told newsmen Tuesday the 17 craft unions in-

SST Foe Out After Another Plane Venture

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, leader of the successful fight to end federal financing of the SST, is questioning a proposed multi-million-dollar government-industry venture to develop another commercial plane.

The new project involves another breed of airplane—a short haul craft with a range up to 500 miles and a mission that duplicates its name: Short Take Off and Landing Transport, the STOL.
George M. Low, acting administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, asked the Senate Aeronautics Committee Tuesday to approve the first $1.5 million installment of a project scheduled to cost $100 million over the next four years.

Low called the plane a "major new initiative in aeronautics" and said a NASA official is "discussing with industry leaders the arrangement for their participation in the financing and direction of the program" to produce an experimental STOL.

Proxmire, D-Wis., whose seven-year battle to stop SST spending ended last week in a 51-46 Senate victory, told a newsman he will do what he can to prevent the STOL from going the route of the supersonic transport.
In a letter to Low's office, he asked for details of NASA's plans and demanded a complete justification of government involvement in STOL research and development.
"As far as this senator is concerned," Proxmire said, "Congress must not again become involved with some vague open-ended, potentially very costly 'joint undertaking' with the aircraft industry."
The SST program involved government subsidies totaling more than $1 billion to develop two working prototypes to be used as models for later commercial production.

Low told a House committee last week the government intends at this point only to prove "the technological concept" of the STOL by developing its own experimental research plane.

He said then NASA does not contemplate "government participation in the development of commercial prototypes of this aircraft."

Low has promoted the STOL as part of an air-ground transportation system between near-by cities and ease airport congestion.

Because of the shorter runway required by such a plane, it theoretically could operate from airports much closer to the central cities, sharply reducing time spent traveling to and from airports.

Low has not decided whether they will sit on wage stabilization review boards established by Nixon's order.

CECIL BITTLE

Cecil Bittle, for a number of years director of the University of Arkansas Southwest Branch Experiment Station, was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting. He was presented by Kiwanian Bill Butler who arranged the program.

Mr. Bittle reviewed some of the events leading up to the establishment of the Station in 1926. The Arkansas Bank and Trust Company, one of Hope's financial institutions of that day, served as Trustee for funds contributed by local citizens and business firms to provide land for the station and handled the purchase of the necessary acreage.

Mr. Bittle recited several amusing incidents that have happened at the Station and then showed a film covering many of the activities of the U. of A. Agricultural Extension Service.
Of special interest to friends who recognized her, one segment of the film showed a group of small children surrounding their teacher who was none other than Dianne Ellis, now Mrs. Hubert Barksdale, daughter of local residents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ellis.
Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Kiwanian Jim McKenzie of Prescott, Key Clubbers, Tim White, Steve Harris, Randy Wright, and Jack Turner, Bob Jackson and Rev. Gerald W. Trussell of Hope, and Rev. Finley Tinnin and Carlos Gruber, Evangelist and Music Director in the Revival Meeting now in progress at First Baptist Church.

Adjournment Is Possible by Friday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The General Assembly appeared headed for final adjournment by Friday at the latest after House approval Tuesday of the proposed new revenue stabilization law.

The House approved the bill, which will determine how state revenues will be distributed in the next biennium, on a vote of 94-0 and sent it to the Senate for consideration.

The measure was read twice in the Senate so that it could be considered today.

Legislative leaders expressed confidence Tuesday that the assembly could wind up its work on Friday, and possibly on Thursday, if no major controversies occur to slow proceedings.

Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs said it was possible the legislature could finish by noon Thursday but that noon Friday was more probable.

Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock said 21 senators had signed a resolution by late Tuesday afternoon calling for sine die adjournment at noon Friday. That would be the 82nd day of the session, which was extended beyond the regular final adjournment date of March 11.

Besides completing work on the revenue stabilization bill, the House also approved about 20 appropriations, leaving only about 15 money bills that it must consider before adjournment.

The revenue stabilization billers from previous stabilization acts because it proposes the transfer of the year-end surpluses that build up in state agency accounts to a fund that would finance Gov. Dale Bumpers' construction program.

The provision was the subject of the sharpest debate Tuesday as the House considered amendments to the bill.

Four Perish in Apartment House Fire

BOSTON (AP) — Flames swept the upper floors of an apartment building early today. Fire officials said four persons died, 12 were injured and others were missing in the glaze of "suspicious origin."

Lt. George Lee, public relations officer of the fire department, said there had been two other fires of suspicious origin in the five-story brick structure during the past year.

Lee reported seven deaths at first but revised the figure later.

The dead included a baby. Neighbors said they thought most of the victims were older persons.

Many students and elderly persons lived in the block-long building. About 150 of them fled to safety or were rescued. The injured were treated for burns and smoke inhalation.

The first of the 250 firemen who fought the blaze arrived just after 12:30 a.m., and rescued about 40 persons on ladders from apartment windows. Other tenants made their way through smoky hallways or metal fire escapes to exits.

Stewart Thayer, 52, who came down a ladder from his bathroom window, said when he left he heard someone screaming "get me out, get me out."

"I heard people running downstairs," he said, "but I couldn't get out. I broke through a screen on my bathroom window and yelled for help."

Witnesses said dozens of persons were perched on window sills and ledges outside blaring rooms when fire equipment arrived.

The apartment complex, in the Back Bay section not far from the Red Sox home Fenway Park, contains 40 apartments housing about 160 persons.

Tate Case May Go on Five More Years

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The chief defense lawyer in the Sharon Tate murder trial says appeals of the convictions and death sentences of Charles Manson and his three women followers may last five years and will be taken to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Paul Fitzgerald said in an interview Tuesday that the defense will launch its appeal on April 19 at a hearing before Superior Court Judge Charles Older, who presided over 9½-month trial that ended Monday.

Older has the power to lower the death penalties to life imprisonment and Fitzgerald said defense attorneys would ask for the sentence reduction as well as reduction of the convictions to second-degree murder.

Central issues in the appeals of all defendants he said, will include pretrial publicity, the court's refusal to move the trial out of Los Angeles County, the joining of the four defendants in one trial—and the admissibility of certain evidence and testimony.

Maxwell Keith, defending Leslie Van Houten, said one of her main points on appeal is that she should not have been tried with the others because she was charged and convicted of only two of the seven killings in August 1969.

Most damaging to chances of a possible reversal, said Fitzgerald, were the women's witness stand confessions. Miss Van Houten, 21, Patricia Krenwinkel, 23, and Susan Atkins, 22, said they killed while "stoned" on LSD.

"What the defendants did is confess to something other than premeditated first-degree murder," Fitzgerald said. "According to their version of events, at most, they've confessed to second-degree murder."

"I've never known a soldier, nor did I ever myself wantonly kill a human being in my entire life."

The 27-year-old Calley, a man with the stature of a stocky teenager, appeared even smaller as he stood alone in front of the court-martial members—experienced combat officers with their chests full of service ribbons.

His voice broke as he said: "If I've committed a crime, the only crime I have committed is in my judgment of my values. Apparently I have valued my troops' lives more than I did that of the enemy."

"When my troops were getting massacred and mauled by an enemy I couldn't see, I couldn't feel and I couldn't touch; that nobody in the military system ever described as anything other than communism—they didn't give it a race, they didn't give it a sex, they didn't give it an age. They never let me believe it was just a philosophy in a man's mind. That was my enemy out there."

"And when it became between me and that enemy, I had to value the lives of my troops. I feel that is the only crime I have committed."

It was easily the most moving moment of the court-martial. The jurors' faces were masks.

In the same deliberation room where they spent 13 days hammering out the harshest possible verdict, the jurors must weigh today the final words of Judge Reid Kennedy, an Army colonel:

"You should select a sentence that is appropriate to the offenses of which you have convicted Lt. Calley, his deeds, the welfare of society and good order and discipline within the military service."

Throughout the country, newspapers and radio and television stations reported receiving numbers of calls from citizens who said they wanted to express their opinion. Most said they opposed the verdict.

U.S. Rep. William L. Dickinson, R-Ala., said in a House speech that he had sent a telegram to the President asking that he pardon Calley. A resolution backing the petition was to be introduced in the Alabama Legislature.

A similar motion in the Mississippi Senate was sent to the Rules Committee for study after several lawmakers objected that it would not benefit Calley or the country to show that the nation is divided.

Hundreds of telegrams were sent to Ft. Benning to the jurors who will not see them until they complete deliberations. All but one supported the lieutenant. The one, from Hawthorne, N.Y., said, "Hang Calley."

Two men, both veterans of World War II and Korea, turned themselves in to Cushing, Okla., police for what they said were war crimes. They

Saturday, April 3

The annual Spring Conference of the American Legion Auxiliary junior and senior members will be held Saturday, April 3 in Conway at the Junior High School cafeteria on Davis and Prince Streets. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m., and the noon luncheon will cost $1.50. Those planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Joe Jones by April 1.

Shower For Bride-elect Miss Patti Bradford bride-elect of Richard William Brandenburg was honoree at a miscellaneous shower given Saturday afternoon March 27th in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Jones of Ozan.

The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers. Coffee and punch were served to thirty guests. Many lovely and useful gifts were received by the bride-to-be. Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Wilburn Jones, Charles Locke, Harry McKillip, W.T. Hill, R.J. Hill and Joel Green.

Bridge Club Meets

Five tables of players met for the Hope Duplicate Bridge Club on Monday, March 29 at the Diamond. Winning couples were: first, Mrs. Bill Wray and Mrs. B.W. Edwards; second, Dr. George Wright and R.L. Broach; third, Mrs. R.D. Moore and Dr. Lynn Harris.

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Parsons, Couthatta, La., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Caston and Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmore Dupuy went to Tyler, Tex., for the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Jones and family.

Local Group at Student Council Meet

The Hope High School Student Council was elected secretary-host of the Arkansas Association of Student Councils at the state convention held March 25-27 at Stuttgart.

Other officer schools elected were: president, Cross, County High School; reporter, Nashville High School.

Southside High School of Fort Smith, the 1969-70 president school, was in charge of the convention program, the theme of which was "It's Up to You." Key note speaker for the convention was Mr. Roy Lee Hight, former president of the Arkansas Young Democrats.

Two local students, Sandra McFarland and Melissa Mohon led discussion groups, and Hope served as chairman of the Resolutions Committee, represented by Betty Ruth Honeycutt and Mrs. Joe Watkins, faculty adviser.

Other Hope students attending the convention were Alan Foster and Billy McCorkle.

U.S. Juvenile Program Not Working

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate was told today continued and alarming increases in juvenile crime since the adoption of an ambitious federal program three years ago have raised questions about continuing the project.

"It is evident that the efforts of the federal government have either fallen painfully short or have been merely money down the drain," Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said in remarks prepared for the start of a two-day hearing by his Senate Judiciary subcommittee to investigate juvenile delinquency.

America Is Praised at Lions Meet

Hope Lions had the unique pleasure of hearing impressions of America from a man who has lived under Russian domination in his native country of Latvia.

Bro. Carlos Gruber, violinist and song leader for the revival services going on at First Baptist Church brought the program for the Monday luncheon at the Town and Country.

At the age of thirteen Bro. Gruber left Latvia with two thousand Latvian Baptists and moved to Brazil and was active in jungle missions there. He graduated from college in Sao Paulo where he studied music and later served in Brazilian Baptist churches as music director.

Bro. Gruber came to the United States in 1937 where he enrolled in Southwestern Baptist Seminary. After graduating there in 1940 he was ordained to the ministry. He pastored a Latvian Baptist church in New York City and was editor and publisher of a Latvian monthly paper there. In 1948 Bro. Gruber became an American Citizen and was married in that year to Vivian Doris Mercer, college professor in Spanish and French.

The speaker said that he probably appreciated America more than native Americans because he is a displaced person and that his work has taken him into every mission field over the world where he has personally seen conditions elsewhere.

With all its faults and criticism America is still the greatest place in the world said Mr. Gruber. He said America was great because it is good; extending a helping hand over the world, the speaker himself received food and clothing from America after World War I. America shares its Christian heritage by sending out more missionaries than any other nation.

America receives refugees from oppressed countries; the speaker has experienced this too. The facts that America was founded by people seeking religious freedom, the greatness of the U.S. Constitution, and that God is recognized by more of its people than by the people in any other nation makes America the greatest place in the world in which to live. He closed by warning against any communistic trends and influences. The program was arranged by Lion Gerald Trussell.

Explorers Attend Meet at Texarkana

On Saturday, March 27, 4 members of Explorer Post 92 were accompanied by Advisors M-Sgt and Mrs. Albert Patton to Texarkana for a councilwide planning conference.

Those attending were President Larry Patton, 1st Vice President Jackie Harrington and Secretary-Treasurer Paul Patton and Alphonse Roy who filled in for 2nd Vice President Bill McCulley who was unable to attend.

During the day the young people discussed such plans as the Nationwide SOAR day April 24 and how they would participate, and a councilwide trip for Explorers for a weekend at Narrows in July.

They enjoyed a swim party at MasterHost Aquadome during their lunch break and then went back to the Scout office to discuss problems common to many Explorer groups. Plans have been made not only with the council but with the Post itself for trips and work projects. The young people are looking forward to fun along with community service and hope that teenagers from 15 years of age and up will come by and talk to them about their plans and find something of interest for them and thus help Explorer Post 92 grow.

Effective April 1 girls will be able to hold any office in the Post and will be able to participate in any way due to changes made in the National Council which will provide coed camping facilities at all Scout camps etc. A teenager does not have to be in any form of Scouting to be an Explorer. As a matter of fact, it was pointed out at this meeting that Explorers will not really be in the Scouting program under the changing scene but will be more involved with vocational interests, social fun, citizenship, outdoor activities, physical fitness and service to their community.

A Connecticut reader writes in part: "I wonder what the world's record for chucking a contract is. Just the other day my partner was playing three no-trump. West opened the 10 of hearts and in one-tenth of a second my partner had covered with dummy's jack. It took him five minutes to play the rest of the hand but the contract was out the window as soon as he got his grimy hand on that jack of hearts."

We really sympathize with our correspondent. If South had taken time out to think at trick one he would have seen that his correct play was to play a low heart from dummy. South could be sure of nine tricks if West held the queen of hearts. He would also be sure of nine tricks against the actual distribution provided he played low from both hands. He would still be in trouble if that 10 of hearts had been a singleton but then there would be no way to bring the contract home.

Incidentally, the defense must have played very carefully while South was trying to work out of the hole he had put himself in.

We can't give South any laurel wreaths for his bidding either. He might well have tried a two-heart call at his second turn to bid instead of leaping into no-trump. North would have raised hearts and we doubt if South could have found a way to go down at four hearts. In fact, we believe that he might well have come up with an overtrick if he just played his two top trumps as a starter.

Ombudsman Has Time With Title

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's new ombudsman for business has a hard time pronouncing his own title. And he isn't particularly anxious to listen to complaints.

"Basically, I'll be an expediter and accelerator of the flow of services to business," said Thomas E. Drumm, 61, a veteran Commerce Department official named to the post Tuesday.

Drumm doesn't regard himself as an ombudsman in the traditional sense, a government employee who is supposed to be part public relations man, part public defender and part trouble shooter.

While he will hear businessmen's criticism of government, he says he will focus primarily on letting industry know what the government has to offer.

"Businessmen just don't know about the resources that are available," he said. "They're amazed when they hear about them."

Drumm said he expects most of his work will deal with government buying, letting businesses know how to go about selling to one of the biggest customers in the world.

But he says he will not be intervening in specific cases before federal regulating agencies or in negotiations of contracts.

Neither will he be very helpful for businessmen who may get into tax trouble with the Internal Revenue Service.

"Our whole pitch is going to be constructive and useful—not to get in any confrontations," Drumm said.

Advises Use of Mulches in Gardening

With the spring gardening season at hand, many Hempstead County gardeners would do well to consider the use of mulches for either vegetable or flower production, according to George F. Brown, district conservationist.

A good mulch can produce a multitude of benefits, he added. It prevents erosion by reducing soil blowing and washing; it keeps the soil cool and conserves moisture; it helps eliminate weed problems; and it adds organic matter to the soil.

Compost is probably the best mulch you can use, but many other materials are satisfactory. Among the better ones that are widely available are grass clippings, sawdust, and straw.

To begin with, you spread from three to six inches of material around the plants, making sure that none of them are covered. The layer must be kept deep enough to do the job and it is usually necessary to add mulching material from time to time.

Sawdust makes a better mulch if it is well rotted. If not, you should add a cup of ammonium nitrate to each bushel of fresh sawdust before applying it. The same is true of straw and other materials low in nitrogen.

When grass clippings are used, it is best to mix them with other mulch materials because they tend to pack down and keep water from entering the soil if they are used alone.

For additional information on use of mulches, gardeners are invited to contact the local Soil Conservation Service Office.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

Ap Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Scotland Yard, as every reader of British novels of crime detection knows, is inhabited by Sherlock Holmes, Inspector Lestrade and his descendants—men with pipes, bowler hats and umbrellas. Sometimes they solve murder mysteries but often it is done with the help of the private investigator who is the story's hero.

NBC's Tuesday night documentary, "Scotland Yard," showed this to be fiction and myth. Every policeman in London. Every policeman in London. Every policeman in London. Every policeman in London.

And the yard itself is a "box of chrome and glass" many stories tall instead of offices in the rear of a palace used by Scottish royalty, source of its name.

The hour describing the contemporary activities of London police was useful and interesting. It told a picture story of men whose watchwords are "courtesy, compassion and understanding," who patrol their beats without weapons and whose homicide department solves 95 per cent of its cases.

David Niven narrated in suitably clipped accent, talking to officials in their offices and chatting with patrolmen on their beats.

Overriding all, however, was the demonstration of the remarkable relationship between the London public and its policemen. Even the criminals respect them—or have until recently when the populace was

by Helen Bottel

DEFINITION OF FEMALE

JEALOUSY
Dear Helen:

We read a lot about jealousy between the sexes, but how about the female "Put-downer" who can't bear to see a friend get something new, or achieve in any way?

I call her Madam Green Eyes. She is the one who:

—Says, "Oh, I have that and never use it!" when someone displays a new gadget for the kitchen—perhaps a gift from her child who has spent his whole allowance on it.

—Seeing a relative's new dress or jewelry, shrugs, "I had something like that last year. It's kicking around the house, but I never wear it any more."

—Exclaims, "Where are you going to wear that?" when you design an unusual creation; or "A friend who is just learning to sew made a dress just like it."

—Is thin, but talks about going on a diet in the presence of anyone who is overweight.

—Says, "I hate—the wet look—pink lipstick—purple, etc." when the gal sitting next to her may very well be wearing one or more of these items.

—Can do without vacations (as dull and boring) the moment someone is asked about hers.

—Makes it seem like bragging when people are happily telling about a wonderful event in their lives. She can never be sincerely thrilled about anyone else's good fortune.

—Remarks, "Your dress is nice, but I could never wear that color or material, etc."

—Can't bear to see her husband get a compliment, so she demolishes him with those mean, cutting anecdotes about his stupidity.

—Even cuts on her own children, comparing her school-day popularity to their datelessness.

What would you call a woman like this?—AGRAVATED

Dear Ag:

A kind description: Insecure. Not feeling especially kind today, I'll settle for covetous cat!—H.

Dear Helen:

I always looked forward to your Helping Hand items and wrote to each shut-in you mentioned. It gives your readers a chance to reach out and touch people, long distance, and I know from the occasional answers I received that our letters were the biggest happening—a sort of miracle—to persons the world had almost forgotten. How about another Helping Hand item?—

READER-WRITER

Dear Readers:

There's a woman in Southern California to whom mail call is life's greatest event—and sometimes the most disappointing. Severe arthritis has confined her to a wheelchair. She is never without pain, yet she remains cheerful and determined to "get around" the best she can. This has resulted in several bad falls, the last, breaking bones that nearly immobilized her. She is divorced, the mother of two grown children, and living on welfare. But she can still laugh.

A friend writes that a flood of letters to this 47-year-old would be "just about the most wonderful thing she could imagine. She's thrilled at the prospect of receiving all that mail, though

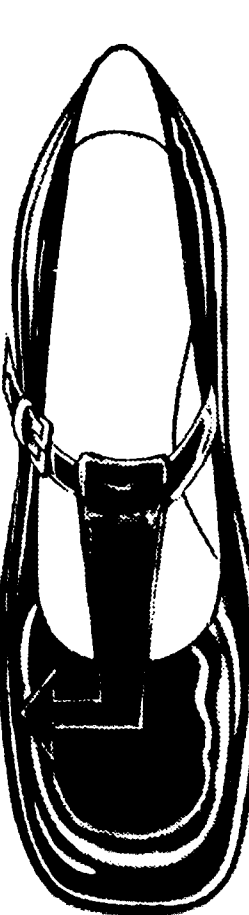

There hasn't been as much excitement among local Methodists since an airplane fell on the east side of the church during morning worship services in 1918. All eyes were turned in the direction of the church at 2nd and Pine on that eventful day, and now more than half a century later eyes are turning toward a new site for a new church which members of the First United Methodist Church plan to erect on the south side of Hope near the Red River Vo-Tech School.

Under the direction of the Rev. J. Edwin Keith committees have been organized and planning work has begun. General Chairman Lloyd Hendrix expressed the sentiments of many in a letter to members and friends of the church which included these words:

"Many memories, sentiments and great personal experiences have materialized within the walls of this great old House of the Lord. Unfortunately, Mother Nature has let the forces of weather and almost constant use reduce this once great structure to a fraction of its former usefulness. . . . Our building committee has done a very good job of seeing that new structures will not only fit our present needs, but can accommodate the many families that we feel will be moving to this general trade area. We are told by business leaders that we can expect a very progressive growth in our industrial as well as our agribusiness area in the next 10 years."

she can't answer everyone because sometimes her hands and arms won't work." She is Mrs. Lorraine Na Pier, 113 Genoa Street, Apt. C, Arcadia, Calif., 91006. Please write to her!—H.

ABA Teams Boil Over McDaniels

By JIM CHURCH
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Relations between the Utah Stars and Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association were at the boiling point today after the Cougars signed the Stars' No. 1 draft choice, All-American 7-footer Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky.

"Jim McDaniels will not play for anybody other than the Utah Stars," declared an angered Vince Boryla, the Stars' general manager.

"We played by the rules," he said. "We want McDaniels and will do whatever necessary to get him."

Boryla, visibly shaken, told a sportswriters' luncheon Tuesday that McDaniels had jumped to Carolina. A few minutes later, in Greensboro, N.C., it was announced that McDaniels had signed a multi-year contract with the Cougars. No terms were announced.

Boryla, who traded Donnie Freeman and Wayne Hightower to Texas for Ron Boone and Glenn Combs, plus the draft rights to McDaniels, said it was a personal services contract.

"He can do anything for Carolina," Boryla said, slamming his hand on a table, "but he will not play basketball for them."

McDaniels averaged 27.8 points and 10.5 rebounds a game and led Western Kentucky to third place in the NCAA playoffs. He was drafted by Seattle of the National Basketball Association in the second round.

Carolina's No. 1 choice had been another 7-footer, Elmore Smith of Kentucky State.

Other ABA owners had urged him to let Carolina have McDaniels for the good of the league, Boryla said, "but the other owners don't care about us."

Nicklaus and Palmer Skip Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are skipping the $190,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament. And, reluctantly, so is singer Glen Campbell.

Palmer, the season's leading money winner with almost $100,000, and Nicklaus, the current PGA and British Open champion, are—as scheduled—taking time off to prepare for next week's Masters.

But Campbell, advertised by the sponsors as a major attraction here, ran afoul of a regulation concerning his handicap and was denied a spot Tuesday in the 72-hole tournament that begins Thursday on the 7,034 yard, par 71 Seagriff Country Club course.

The 144 man field isn't lacking in drawing cards, however, with South African Gary Player, Lee Trevino and Masters king Billy Casper heading the list.

Another Dent in the Big Red Machine

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Another dent has developed in Cincinnati's Big Red Machine.

This one is named Lee May. The slugging first baseman suffered a collision with New York's Tim Lincecum during Tuesday night's 6-3 exhibition victory over the Mets.

May joins pitchers Jim Merritt and Wayne Simpson, center fielder Bobby Tolan and shortstop Dave Concepcion on the sidelines. The first two will be left behind in Florida when the Machine limps north in the hope that more warm weather work will cure their arm miseries. The last two are on the disabled list.

The Reds combed lefty Jerry Koonsman for all their runs in his seven innings, including Bernie Carbo's two-run double. Koonsman has allowed 17 runs and 34 hits in 31 innings this spring.

The New York Yankees' ace Mel Stottlemyre was breezing along on a two-hitter and a 6-0 lead through six innings. Then the wind and the Washington Senators did him in. The Nats clipped Stott and Ron Klimkowski for eight runs in the seventh, with Frank Howard hitting a wind-blown two-run homer and a wind-blown two-run single.

Denny McLain allowed four runs, seven hits, four walks and threw two wild pitches in five innings for Washington.

The Los Angeles Dodgers breezed to a 9-1 triumph over San Francisco as Bill Singer fired a four-hitter and Bill Sudakis homered. The Dodgers scored three runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings.

Gene Alley, who suffered a broken wrist several weeks ago when struck by a ball from a pitching machine, finally saw action in Pittsburgh's 8-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Alley doubled to trigger a three-run first inning.

Ellie Hendricks drove in three runs with a homer and two sacrifice flies and the Baltimore Orioles scored four times against Minnesota's Stan Williams in the sixth inning in beating the Twins 7-5.

St. Louis teed off on Kansas City 10-3, scoring four times in the third inning and five in the seventh. Leron Lee had the Cards' only homer.

Montreal battered Atlanta's Mike McQueen for four runs in the first inning and four more in the fourth en route to a 9-3 triumph. Steve Renko went the route with an eight-hitter and Bob Bailey slammed a homer, two doubles and a single.

Bill Hands pitched eight innings in the Chicago Cubs' 6-3 win over California. Tommy Dean's homer and Nate Colbert's two-run double helped the San Diego Padres over Cleveland 6-3 and the Milwaukee Brewers nipped Oakland 6-5 with Phil Roof knocking in three runs with a double and single and Mike Hegan cracking a homer.

Tony Taylor homered for Philadelphia but the Phillies had to come from behind with two seventh-inning runs on Denny Doyle's double, Mike Ryan's single and Larry Bowa's sacrifice fly to beat Detroit 5-4.

The triumph moved the Knicks to within one victory of ending the National Basketball Association Eastern Conference best-of-seven semifinal playoff series, which resumes in New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The Hawks, trailing 109-94 with 7:11 to go drew even when Walt Hazzard converted a three-point play, Walt Bellamy bombed one from the circle and Lou Hudson pitched in a pair of free throws with 4:24 left, tying it at 101.

Willis Reed, playing the full 48 minutes, gave the Knicks a one point lead on a free throw with 4:10 to go. Neither club scored on the next three possessions and Dick Barnett gave New York breathing room when he hit four straight free throws in a 26-second span.

The Knicks got balanced scoring. Walt Frazier 26, Dick Barnett 22, Dave DeBusschere 19 and Reed 16. Cazzie Russell came off the bench with 10 points, eight in the second half.

Three Teams Slip in the Playoffs
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There's good reason to believe that, by Thursday night, Atlanta's Hawks, San Francisco's Warriors and the Philadelphia 76ers will feel like April fools.

All three teams slipped in one game of elimination from the National Basketball Association playoffs Tuesday night, the Hawks losing 113-107 to New York, the Warriors falling 114-102 to Milwaukee and the 76ers bowing 120-105 to Baltimore.

Only one of the four series' is still a horse race—or, more accurately, a Bull race. Chicago's Bulls charged back to even their series with Los Angeles at two games apiece, ripping the Lakers 112-102.

In the American Basketball Association, still in regular-season play, Pittsburgh walloped Kentucky 149-132, Texas mauled Memphis 99-86, Carolina nipped Indiana 114-112, Utah bounced New York 115-97 and Denver dumped Virginia 129-119.

After taking today off, all four series' resume action April Fool's Night and, by evening's end the Eastern Conference finalists may well be known.

New York's defending champion Knicks, leading Atlanta three games to one in their best-of-seven semifinal, will go for the clincher at home in Madison Square Garden.

And the Bulls, who went the full seven before losing in last year's post-season play to the Knicks, will take their 3-1 series lead into their Civic Arena with a chance to eliminate the 76ers and take another shot at the New Yorkers.

I'll be anything but a happy

Bosox Plan to Chase More Talent

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, satisfied they've filled one trouble spot by obtaining catcher Duane Josephson from the Chicago White Sox, chased bigger game today in a free-wheeling talent hunt.

After acquiring Josephson in a deal Tuesday, Boston General Manager Dick O'Connell virtually confirmed reports that the Red Sox are trying to get big Frank Howard from the Washington Senators.

"I've been on the phone with Bob Short at least once a week since last October," O'Connell said. "He wants players and cash. I'll continue to talk with him."

Short, owner of the Senators, admittedly has "the shorts" as far as his baseball club goes. He has cited big operating losses while trying to obtain contract concessions for games at Washington's Robert F. Kennedy Stadium.

Despite his fielding deficiencies, Howard would be welcome addition to the Red Sox as cleanup hitter behind three-time American League batting champion Carl Yastrzemski.

The 6-foot-7, 285-pound slugger hit 44 homers last year and is a virtual destroyer in Boston's Fenway Park with its chummy left field wall.

The Red Sox reportedly have offered at least a couple of players, including first baseman George Scott, and a pot of cash for Howard. Some reports have Short demanding as much as $300,000 as well as the players.

Josephson, 28, a right-handed hitter whose .316 average included a .440 mark against the Red Sox last year, will step in immediately as Boston's No. 1 catcher. He moves ahead of Don Pavletich, Tom Satriano and Bob Montgomery, one of whom will head elsewhere.

Cage Game to Feature John Neumann

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The East-West Senior All-American Basketball Classic here Thursday will feature a sophomore—Ole Miss star Johnny Neumann.

Neumann led the nation in scoring last season averaging 40.1 points per game and last week announced that he was dropping out of school to sign with the Memphis Pros of the American Basketball Association.

In the past, the classic has pitted the best graduating seniors from across the country, but a decision was made to invite Neumann this year since he had signed a pro contract.

He will play on the East team coached by former St. Louis Hawks' star Bob Pettit.

homecoming for the Warriors. They haven't been able to beat the Bucks all year and trail 3-0 in their Western Conference series.

But the Lakers will no doubt be overjoyed to get back to Los Angeles. They won their first two game in the Forum before dropping a pair in the Bulls' pen.

Walt Frazier led New York with 26 points but it was five successive free throws by Willis Reed and Dick Barnett that pulled the Knicks comfortably away from a 101-101 deadlock in the closing minutes. Lou Hudson had 30 for Atlanta.

The Warriors scrambled back from a 15-point deficit to within a point of Milwaukee at 94-93.

But San Francisco center Nate Thurmond threw away one pass and teammate Jeff Mullins lost another and the Bucks, converting both misuses into points, were safely ahead once again.

Brisker Got Points as Clock Ran Out
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
John Brisker knew it was his last game of the season in the American Basketball Association. He got in his points before the clock ran out.

Brisker, the Pittsburgh Condors' scoring leader, led his team to a 149-132 victory over the Kentucky Colonels Tuesday night with 42 points. He scored 31 of his totals in the second half.

The Condors, fifth in the ABA East, aren't included in the league's eight-team playoff system, so Brisker, and teammates ended their season against Kentucky, which made the playoffs.

Dan Issel led the Colonels with a 51-point output.
In other ABA games, Carolina defeated Indiana 114-112; Texas toppled Memphis 99-86; Utah downed the New York Nets 115-97; and Denver beat Virginia 129-119. The ABA regular season ends tonight.

Bob Verga scored 29 points and Larry Miller 27 for Carolina, another non-playoff team. Indiana Coach Bob Leonard rested the starters on his ABA West champion team. Don Sidke hit 28 and Rick Mount 22 for the Pacers.

The Cougars led most of the game before the Pacers pulled within one point—111-110—with 25 seconds remaining. Miller got the winning margin 10 seconds later with two foul shots.

Texas ripped off 10 straight points at the start of the last quarter as it surged to victory over Memphis. The Chaps had been trailing by four at that point.

Gene Moore led the winners with 21 points and 28 rebounds while Levern Tart added 23 points. Charlie Williams scored 33 points for the Pros.

Utah ended its regular season with a 38-point explosion in the final quarter. The Stars outscored New York 17-2 in the

NCAA Thinks Porter Signed Prematurely

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association says it is investigating reports that Villanova University's basketball star Howard Porter jumped the eligibility gun.

Warren Brown, executive director of the NCAA's rules enforcement program, said Tuesday his group is following the latest allegations that Porter has been under professional contract since late last year.

If the NCAA confirms reports that Porter signed with the Pittsburgh Condors of the American Basketball Association's, the verdict could strike Villanova's recent successful season from official memory.

Fans would have to forget that the Wildcats, led by the 6-foot-8 Porter, came close to denying UCLA its fifth straight NCAA title.

Villanova lost to the Bruins 68-62 in the NCAA final last Saturday.

On Monday the Condors announced they had acquired a contract on Porter from the ABA, but they would not say when it had been signed. This revived the report of last January that the Villanova star, who played high school ball in Pittsburgh, had inked a $350,000 pact.

According to an NCAA spokesman, on Feb. 4, 1971 Porter signed an affidavit under oath that he had not entered into any agreement with a professional organization or agent.

If, as reported, Porter committed himself on Dec. 16, 1970, and continued competing as a collegian, the deed would invalidate his and Villanova's 1970-71 season.

Porter said he hasn't signed anything with anybody.

first 4½ minutes and held a 10-point lead for most of the contest. Rick Barry was high scorer for the Nets with 28 points, while Ron Boone had 23 for the Stars.

Denver's victory kept the team eligible for the final playoff spot in the Western Division. It is tied with Texas with 29-54 records.

Ralph Simpson got 28 points and Julius Keye 28 rebounds for the Rockets. Ray Scott led the Squires with 20 points.

It was expected that a settlement would involve some concession to Denver, but attorneys for both sides have refused to discuss details, as has the usually voluble Sam Schulman, owner of the SuperSonics.

Under the settlement, Haywood is released from all contract obligations to Denver.

THINKING AHEAD, perhaps, New York Mets Manager Gil Hodges meditates during an exhibition game.

Haywood Will Return to Supersonics

SEATTLE (AP) — In ways known only to those involved, the contract dispute of Spencer Haywood has been untangled, and the young basketball star will return next season as the undisputed property of the Seattle SuperSonics.

A breach of contract suit brought by Haywood's former club, the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association, was settled out of court Tuesday. U.S. District Court Judge Warren J. Ferguson dismissed a federal jury that was hearing the case.

The Rockets had been demanding that Haywood live up to a $1.9 million contract he signed last year after winning Most Valuable Player honors the previous ABA season.

It was expected that a settlement would involve some concession to Denver, but attorneys for both sides have refused to discuss details, as has the usually voluble Sam Schulman, owner of the SuperSonics.

Under the settlement, Haywood is released from all contract obligations to Denver.

A Merit System for State Employees Has Cleared the House

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers' proposal to create a comprehensive merit system for state employees cleared the Arkansas Senate Tuesday 22-2.

Already approved by the House, the bill lacks only House concurrence in minor Senate amendments and Bumpers' signature to become law. It would not take effect until July 1, 1973.

The bill sets up procedures governing the hiring, training, promotion and dismissal of state employees. It would extend merit system protection to 7,000 to 9,000 state employees.

The state already has a merit system, but it covers employees of only the state Welfare, Health and Labor departments, the Employment Security Division and other health-related commissions and departments.

Most state employees would be taken into the new system automatically, but all future hiring would be done under merit procedures.

The Senate, in other action, concurred in House amendments to a Senate bill setting the maximum salaries for the directors of the 13 principal departments created by the governmental reorganization plan.

The amendments reduced the proposed salary for the director of Public Safety from $20,000 to $18,500 annually, Higher Education from $25,000 to $22,000, Health from $25,000 to $24,500, Pollution Control and Ecology from $20,000 to $13,500 and the Education Department from $25,000 to $22,000.

The House amended the State Hospital appropriation to increase the allocation for regional mental health centers from $238,000 to $370,000 in the next fiscal year from $261,000 to $383,000 in the following year.

Rep. Ernest Cunningham of Helena, who offered the amendment, said the money for the centers would come from salary funds allocated to the State Hospital.

The House approved the appropriation for the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville 94-0 after turning down a request by Rep. Hugh Kincaid of Fayetteville that it consider his amendment to raise the salaries of a number of professional and non-professional employees by 12 percent over the biennium.

The representatives passed a bill 86-0 that would appropriate $250,000 to construct up to five district State Police headquarters. The House was told that the measure also would qualify the state for $449,000 in federal funds to help construct a new state administration building for the State Police.

Rep. Steve Smith of Huntsville, who opposed the bill, said the new district headquarters would be built at Forrest City, Newport, Hope, Little Rock and Harrison. He said the construction of the Harris facility would be a waste of money since there is a building at nearby Huntsville that is available for use.

The State Police has vacated the building in a move from Huntsville.

The bill failed on the first vote 74-5, with 75 votes needed for approval, but the House reconsidered and approved the measure.

The Senate discovered Tuesday that it had struck the wrong provision last week in an attempt to remove a controversial "no-knock" section from a drug abuse control bill by Rep. Ralph Patterson of North Little Rock. The proposal was recommended Tuesday to delete the right section, which would have allowed law enforcement officers to enter residences without knocking in their search for drugs.

The Senate voted 30-2 to approve a bill to appropriate $40,000 for a study of legislative efficiency and procedures designed to lead to recommendations in 1973 for ways to improve operations.

The House voted 52-10 to approve a bill by Rep. Charles Wade Jr. of Texarkana to appropriate $100,000 to help the Texarkana school district build a vocational high school. The Texarkana school district will

Hanoi Promotes Defeat Idea in Laos Push

By DAVID MASON
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The Laotian youth leaned over the red-draped podium and in heavily accented French reported the "total defeat" of the American-South Vietnamese operation in southern Laos.

The applause settled into a disciplined steady beat.

"Fifteen thousand enemy, including 200 GIs were captured, 496 planes, mostly helicopters, were destroyed by the Laos popular forces ..."

The North Vietnamese minister, happy to give all the credit to the Laotians, joined in the acclaim.

The meeting, in the severely decorated House of the Metal Workers in the shabby Right Bank Republique quarter, was another in a series of efforts by the Vietnamese Communists here to seek public support.

The campaign is promoted mainly by Hanoi. It has made Paris the Vietnamese Communists' main loudspeaker to the world.

The operation employs the best of Western public relations techniques and some of its technology. It includes the friendly handclasp, public appearances, and soft-sell lunches for newsmen and foreign delegations.

Lengthy policy statements from Hanoi, and crisp battle-contribute $100,000 to the project. Also available will be $300,000 in federal funds under the Model Cities program.

The House adopted a resolution by Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff that commends U.S. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., for his opposition to the federal revenue sharing plan.

Army Spending $10 Million on Radio, TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has the option of canceling on 24-hour notice its $10.6 million prime-time recruiting campaign if the Vietnam fighting escalates or if the United States becomes involved in another war elsewhere.

The escape clause is written into contracts with the nation's three major television networks and more than 1,200 radio stations carrying the Army's soft-sell recruiting message.

Known on Madison Avenue as a catastrophe or strike clause, "it gives the Army protection in case something drastic happens," explained Don Reath, spokesman for N.W. Ayre & Son, the Army's advertising agency.

Airlines use a similar clause to pull their ads from newspapers and broadcast stations on short notice should one of their planes crash.

"It's just good sense," said Reath. "If something drastic happens, you want your money back."

In the Army's case, the contract provides cancellation of the 13-week advertising program "upon 24 hours' notice in the event of the involvement of U.S. armed forces in a military engagement in foreign territory other than the present involvement in Indochina or in the event of a significant escalation of the Indochina involvement."

Ruptured Appendix
Not Always Fatal

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I just had an appendectomy and was told by the surgeon that it had been chronic and then turned acute. He found it to be perforated. When I asked what this meant, he told me that the next step would have been peritonitis. Can you explain this?

Dear Reader—Chronic appendicitis is usually considered to be rather rare. Intermittent attacks of pain, not clearly appendicitis, sometimes are noted before a definite attack occurs.

Appendicitis simply means inflammation of the appendix. The appendix is a small, fingerlike projection at the blind end of the large intestine. When it is inflamed, it becomes enlarged and swollen. In the process, with the pressure inside of it, the appendix sometimes ruptures or perforates. The hole through the wall of the appendix then allows juices and contents from the intestinal tract to leak out into the abdominal cavity.

The abdominal cavity is completely lined with a thin membrane which we call the peritoneum. The intestinal contents contain a lot of bacteria as well as chemically irritating elements. It is usually the bacteria, however, that set up an inflammation of the peritoneum called peritonitis.

The organisms involved, and the extent of the infection, determine how serious it really is. In the days before antibiotics were available, peritonitis, following appendicitis, was a very serious complication. It still is not a pleasant experience, but it is far less dangerous today than it was formerly.

Finds Things Tougher in NHL Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michel Plasse made his National Hockey League debut and found out something many hockey players before him have discovered.

It's tougher to score in the NHL than it is in the minors. Plasse is the player who made hockey history earlier this year when he became the first goaltender ever to score a goal. But that was in the Central League. Things aren't that easy in the NHL.

He came up a winner as St. Louis trimmed Los Angeles 4-3 but he was shut out offensively. Defensively, he kicked out 33 LA shots as the Blues' regular goalies, Ernie Wakely and Glenn Hall, rested.

In Tuesday's only other NHL game, Vancouver edged Minnesota 2-1.

Garry Unger's 27th goal of the year with just 2:16 left to play, moved St. Louis past LA. Unger connected just 2 1/2 minutes after Eddie Joyal had beaten Plasse to tie the score for the Kings.

Ross Lonsberry and Larry Mickey had Los Angeles' other goals while Jim Lorent, Chris Bordeleau and Wayne Connelly hit for St. Louis.

Minnesota, with a chance to all but clinch third place in the West, blew it by bowing to Vancouver. The North Stars still hold a three-point edge over fourth place Philadelphia and have two games remaining to three for the Flyers.

Goalie George Gardner kicked out 42 Minnesota shots but lost his bid for a shutout when Murray Oliver scored his 200th career NHL goal with less than six minutes to play.

Egyptian Upsets Ashe in Tennis

MIAMI (AP) — Egypt's Ismail El Shafei upset second ranked American Arthur Ashe of Miami Tuesday night 6-3, 6-3, in first round competition at the $50,000 Aventura World Tennis Classic.

In other matches, top ranked John Newcombe of Australia beat fellow Aussie John Alexander 6-3, 4-6, 6-3; fifth seeded Tom Okker of The Netherlands beat Phil Dent of Australia, 6-2, 6-4 and eighth ranked Roy Emerson of Australia stopped Torben Ulrich of Denmark, 6-3, 6-3.

Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico dropped seventh ranked Bob Lutz, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 876

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 13-12 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF HOPE, ARKANSAS; AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CITY OF HOPE, ARKANSAS:

SECTION 1: That Section 13-12 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Hope, Arkansas, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"There shall be charged, assessed and collected from each residential premise within the city limits and from each business premise within said city limits a monthly amount, to be determined and approved by the Board of Directors, from time to time, sufficient to cover the cost of collection and disposal of garbage and rubbish, and other environmental health activities, as provided by Section 13-5 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Hope, Arkansas. The health program fees, as determined from time to time, shall include but not be limited to the cost of additional equipment as needed, cost of replacement of equipment as needed, and other capital assets required by said city in performing the service of garbage and rubbish collection and other environmental health activities. A schedule of such fees as approved by the Board of Directors shall be filed with the city clerk and become a public record subject to the inspection of any person or firm for a period of time not less than 30 days prior to the effective date thereof. The Board of Directors shall, from time to time, review and revise such schedule of fees as may be necessary to insure that they are ample to cover the cost of service rendered by the city as herein defined, and to further insure that the fee charged to each residential premise or business premise is fair and equitable in each instance under the circumstances existing. The treasurer shall collect these health program fees either through the water department as a separate item on each water bill or by any other practical means of collection. In order to add equipment as needed, and to replace vehicles and other equipment when needed, there is hereby created a separate sinking fund to be known as "Equipment Replacement Fund" into which the city treasurer shall pay monthly from the garbage and rubbish fees collected a rateable amount of the estimated annual replacement cost of machinery, land, and equipment used in the health program, based on an estimate supplied by the sanitation department and approved by the City Board of Directors, which fund is to be used only for the addition, replacement or substitution of vehicles and other capital equipment required and used in the collection of garbage and rubbish and other environmental health activities in the city of Hope, Arkansas. Upon the approval or revision of the schedule of fees from time to time, a notice shall be published in a newspaper once a week for two consecutive weeks, at least 30 days prior to the effective date of said fees, which notice shall be substantially in the following form:

SECTION 2: That the Code of Ordinances of the City of Hope, Arkansas, is hereby amended by adding a section to be numbered Section 13-12(a), which section shall read as follows:

"If any section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance shall be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the remainder of this Ordinance shall not be affected thereby."

SECTION 3: It is found and determined that the proper and efficient collection of garbage and rubbish and other environmental health activities within the city of Hope, Arkansas, is a proper function of the municipal government; that there is not sufficient revenue available for such operation and maintenance of said system; and that additional funds must be made available for said purpose; hence it is found and determined that this Ordinance is necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, safety and general welfare of the City of Hope, Arkansas, and that an emergency is declared to exist and that this Ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.

PASSED AND APPROVED BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CITY OF HOPE, ARKANSAS, on this 23rd day of March, 1971.

Dr. S.W. Strong
Mayor

ATTEST:

SALLY ANDREWS, CITY CLERK

This is to certify that the above and foregoing Ordinance was published in the Hope Star on the 31st day of March, 1971.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The German shepherd dog is noted for its intelligence, loyalty and courage. The World Almanac notes that it is commonly called "police dog," a misnomer applied to this breed because of its use in patrol duty. German shepherds respond quickly to training and have been valuable as companion dogs for the blind.

We offer our most grateful and heartfelt appreciation for each expression of sympathy in the recent death of our Loved one.

Except for the sustaining grace of God and the love and loyalty of friends and loved ones our grief would be more than we could bear. May God Bless You.

Watson Chapel Attorney Fined $500

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Judge Oren Harris rose to the challenge Tuesday night and fined John Norman Warnock, attorney for the Watson Chapel School Board, $500 for contempt of court.

Warnock was fined specifically for violating an order issued by Harris Feb. 5 prohibiting him from speaking out against or participating in mass meetings opposing court-ordered desegregation in the district in southwest Jefferson County. The judge dismissed contempt writs served against two members of the Watson Chapel Board, President Harris Mitchell and C. E. Garmon Jr., but he warned them that they would hear from him again if they attempted to impede progress of desegregation in the district.

The judge told Warnock that he had until Friday to certify to the court that he would not again violate court orders against speaking out as long as he is attorney for the school board.

If Warnock does not reply by Friday, Harris said, additional fines of $350 a day will be assessed and Warnock will be jailed until he does so.

Harris reviewed several reported incidences of Warnock violating the order against speaking out. He also noted that Warnock had announced to news media that he was going to test the order.

He said that if Warnock withdraws as board attorney, he can then speak out to his heart's content.

Harris had Mitchell and Garmon brought to court from Pine Bluff. Warnock, who lives at Camden, was escorted by U.S. marshals from El Dorado where he was attending a case in a state court.

About 20 Watson Chapel patrons, most sympathetic with Warnock, cheered him when he arrived. Many stayed through eight hours of testimony. Harris finished reading his orders in the case at 11:40 p.m.

A SCENE that Hollywood's producers of horror films probably wish they had thought of raises temperatures, not goose pimples, at Ibusuki, Japan, a health resort where sand bathing is big. Subterranean hot springs warm the sand. Rheumatic sufferers, literally buried alive, are said to benefit from the steam bath effect.

Two Versions on Prison Funds Passed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House and Senate each approved Tuesday its own version of the basic prison appropriation for the next biennium.

The Senate measure was approved 31-1 without debate. There also was no debate in the House as the bill passed 87-5. The action came little more than 12 hours after the firing of Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver.

Each bill would appropriate $2,155,265 for prison operations in fiscal 1971-72 and $2,541,893 for fiscal 1972-73.

The Senate defeated the appropriation bill last week on the heels of debate sharply critical of Sarver and was, in effect, a display of legislative dissatisfaction with the commissioner. Pressure for Sarver's dismissal had mounted since that time and culminated Monday night when the Board of Correction voted 3-1 to fire Sarver.

The House also had shown its displeasure with Sarver by refusing in past weeks to approve an allocation in the governor's emergency fund for use by the penitentiary in case the money were needed. The House finally amended the money out of the fund.

With Sarver out of the picture, the representatives Tuesday also approved a $100,000 appropriation to buy farm machinery for the penitentiary. The vote was 92-1, with Rep. Bill Randall of Hot Springs casting the only dissenting vote.

Voting Age Amendment Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A resolution to ratify a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution to make 18 the minimum age for voting in all elections was approved 29-5 Tuesday by the Arkansas Senate. The House had approved the resolution March 23.

Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff offered an amendment to make the resolution contingent on approval by the people in the 1972 general election. The amendment was defeated on a vote of 8-26.

The dissenting votes on the resolution itself were cast by Sens. Dorothy Allen of Brinkley, Joe Lee Anderson of Helena, Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton, Robert Harvey of Swifton and Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff.

Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway, who voted for the resolution and against Gathright's amendment, made one of the strongest speeches in behalf of 18 year olds.

"The great, vast majority of young people in this state are sober-thinking, steady-minded citizens, but they don't get the publicity because what they are doing is not sensational," Jones said.

Jones said that if a boy can be put in uniform and make a command decision to affect his life and the lives of others, he should be entitled to votes as much as someone who is 70 or 75 years old and senile.
